1. Provide two site plans (to scale) showing the location of the existing swimming pool in relationship to existing buildings and property lines.
2. Provide two copies of a written site-specific backfill procedure prepared by a licensed soils engineer or engineering geologist.
3. The owner and/or contractor shall obtain a grading permit and request the applicable inspections. Grading Permit Fee is based on the amount of cubic yards of fill required to fill the hole.
4. A final compaction report will also have to be submitted. Compact the fill material to 90%

Some of the necessary inspections may include verifying proper drainage of the pool, disconnection of all electrical wiring to pool equipment and capping off gas line to pool heater. A final inspection would be required to verify compliance with these requirements.
