

Citywide elections or by-district elections for City Council:

What's best for the City of Perris?
We want to hear your thoughts!

The City of Perris is holding an in-person community forum on Tuesday, September 7 at 6:00 p.m. at the City Council Chambers to receive resident and stakeholder feedback on how Perris should elect its City Council in the future.

Currently, the city uses an at-large election process. Under a district-based election system, the City would be divided into equally populated voting districts. A candidate must reside within a voting district to be eligible to run for that district's Council seat and is elected only by voters residing within that same voting district.

Tell us what you think! We need to hear from you on whether the city should continue with citywide elections or switch to district elections.
