Based on the APN's provided below, your project is located in zone D of March Air Base AIA, but review by ALUC is not required because your project does not propose a legislative action and the City of Perris I consistent with ALUCP.

Should you have any questions, please contact me.

Hello Jo,

It depends on the kind of case you filed with the City of Perris, what type of project are you proposing? (i.e. GP)

Good afternoon Paul. I'm working on a new project in Perris and hope you can tell me if an ALUC application is required. The APNs are 311-030-012 & 013. Thanks in advance for your help.
